

How to subscribe to the “Latest News” feature on the LWA website

You can view Latest News items without being logged in to the website, but log-in as an active LWA member is necessary if you wish to subscribe. Members who are subscribed to Latest News will have relevant items emailed to them as soon as they are posted.

Note: Initially, as of January 2020, there is only one category, “News”. If this changes in the future, you may undo your site subscription and subscribe to specific categories as described below.

First, you should log in to the LWA website. Next, select the “Latest News” tab at the upper right hand corner of the main menu, and you will see the menu bar shown below.

1. Site subscription: all items in all categories. Click the envelope in the main blog menu bar. Enter your name and email address.

2. Category subscription: blog items in specific category. Choose Categories from the menu bar, click the envelope, and enter the requested information.
3. Author subscription: blog items written by a specific author. Choose Authors from the menu bar, click the envelope, and enter the requested information.

New categories may be created in the future, and will be announced to the LWA membership. If you wish to manage your subscriptions, choose that option from the Settings pull-down menu on the right side of the menu bar.
